“Preparing for Eid-ul-Fitr”

Special Issue || Ramadhān 1447 / March 2026

Teachers to discuss this with students before the end of the term

While we're all looking forward to celebrating Eid, a precious few days of Ramadhān remain. Now is the time to dedicate ourselves fully to Allāh Ta'ālā and make every remaining moment count.

What Is Eid Really About?

Eid is our celebration for:

- We have been given the opportunity to be in the obedience of Allāh Ta'ālā.
- We were given the ability by Allāh Ta'ālā to do more good deeds.
- Allāh Ta'ālā made it easy for us to stay away from sin.

We should not forget all the good habits we built in Ramadhān.

Remember we are Muslim and are proud to be Muslim.

Things We Should Avoid on Eid day

On Eid day, we must still behave like good Muslims.

We should avoid:

1. Wearing clothes that expose the 'Awrah (parts of the body that must be covered).
2. Dressing like people of other religions or copying their styles.
3. Forcing our parents to buy new clothes.
4. Getting haircuts that copy non-Muslim trends.
5. Boys and girls talking, hugging, or mixing with non-mahrams.
6. Listening to any music.
7. Wasting food and drinks.
8. Putting up Eid trees or decorations that copy other religions.

Things We Should Do on Eid day

Eid should be full of joy and happiness in a way that pleases Allāh Ta'ālā.

Here are some beautiful actions we should try to do:

1. Perform all our Salāh, especially 'Esha and Fajr, with Jamāt.
2. Take a Sunnah Ghusl, put on our best Sunnah clothing and apply 'Itr.
3. Read Astaghfirullāh and ask Allāh Ta'ālā to forgive any mistakes from Ramadhān.
4. Follow the Sunnah method of eating and drinking.
5. Keep our memories in our hearts instead of focusing on pictures and phones.
6. Read some Qur'ān on the night and day of Eid.
7. Give Sadaqah to the poor muslims.
8. Visit our family.
